Turnier der Meister® - Media-Guidelines

Those who wish to obtain media accreditation for the Turnier der Meister® must prove their legitimacy with an AIPS number or a recognized press id (VDS, DJV, DJU in Verdi, BDZV, VDZ). All other forms of identification will not be accepted.

In order to be issued accreditation, all press must fulfill the following requirements:
•Completely fill out the press accreditation request form, either online or printed out andfaxed.
•Present their accreditation request confirmation when picking up the accreditation. Theconfirmation will be sent as either an email or a letter.
•Those who do not have a recognized press id, might be given accreditation when thefollowing additional requirements are fulfilled:
A letter of recommendation on letterhead from the sending agency, explaining why theaccreditation is needed. Emails will not be accepted, and the name and contactinformation of the agency must be in the letter.

The letter must be received by 13th of February 2026, or else no accreditation will be given.

Because of the size of the Lausitz-Arena, the number of press seats is limited. Accreditation will be granted with the following priorities in mind:
1. News Agencies (dpa, SID, AP, AFP, Reuters, etc.)
2. Daily newspapers
3. Magazines and weekly papers
4. Local television and radio stations

Due to the limited space available in the TdM venue, only a limited number of media representatives can be admitted. In any case, the TdM grants the accreditations after a prior examination and weighting of the requests

The Tournament of Masters reserves the right to withdraw accreditation at any time and without further explanation from those who conduct themselves in an unprofessional manner.

The use of personal video cameras is strictly forbidden.
